Someone once said, "a school is only as good as its student body." A student body, like the human body, has various organs which are responsible for its performance. Without such structures as the heart, the brain, the pulse and the nervous system, the human body could not exist.

So, too, the student body is comprised of a number of elements without which it cannot operate. A student body without seniors and underclassmen would have no heart beat nor pulsation to register its vital signs. A student body without activity and organization would fail to demonstrate its life and strength. Without a brain, a student body would have no means of attaining knowledge. And finally, without a backbone a student body would have no means of standing up straight and making itself recognized—it would have no means of supporting itself.

The student body is what constitutes a school. Every individual is a part of the body and can be excluded or discarded no more easily than a finger can be cut from a hand. A school is only as good as its student body and Borgess' student body is good!

Activities

Oct. 30: Homecoming Day: 'a day and a half'

Couples await the beginning of an evening's festivities.

Homecoming Queen, Kathy McHenry, is escorted to her throne by Glen Neal.

Alumni occupy foreground as all dance to the music of Eddie Schick.

Craig Lantto shares in the surprise felt by Kathy McHenry as her name is announced as Homecoming Queen.

"A Long Day's Journey into Night" tagged as theme to Homecoming Dance: victory on the field celebrated in the evening

Borgess' great Rice rally — unbelievably fantastic

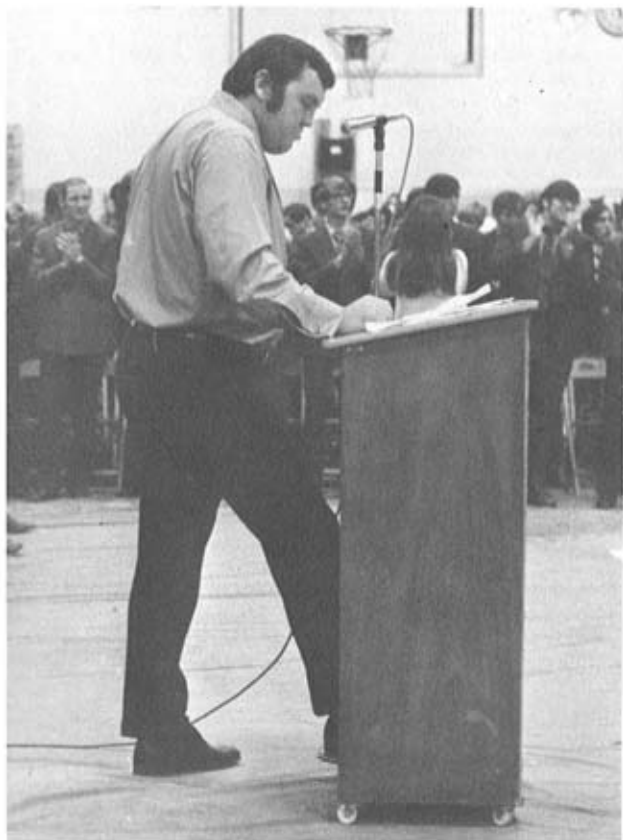

Gail Gordon leads excited crowd in cheers.

Enthusiastic Borgess fans show spirit and confidence.

Borgess gains support from the teams in A-West Division before THE game.

"We will fight and win!" roars Coach Mushinski.

Every face reflects the famed Borgess determination and strength.

Championships generate pep rallies like the Rice rally. Never before in Borgess' entire history has there been anything like it!

"Someone filled my pompons with helium!"

Sounds of joy: 'An Old Fashioned Christmas'

John Stupar and Kevin Sutherland join in a round of song.

Will the real Santa please come forward?

Snow white cheer abounds as "Marshmallow World" comes to Borgess' stage.

Advanced girls contribute to the golden memories.

Marianne Zelmanski adds her lilting touch to "Gesu Bambino."

Student Director, Cindy Grywalski demands a soft note.

Cold air must make people hungry!

Everyone had fun at Valentine sleigh ride despite icy weather

Common opinion has it that blankets help to keep out the cold.

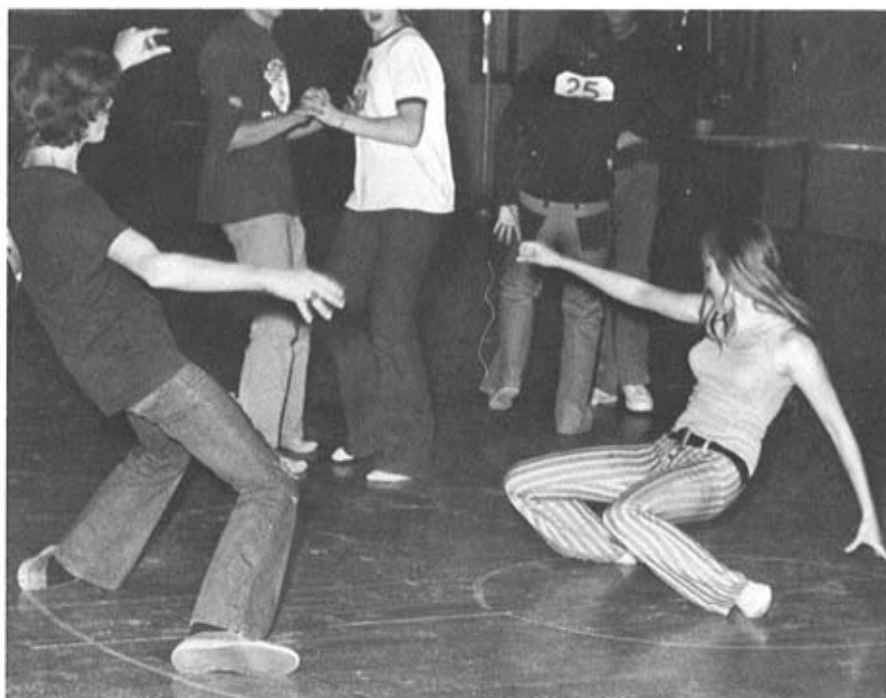

Sleigh ride, a lonely job for the driver.

The four classes united to sponsor a sleigh ride for Valentine's day—something new in the history of Bishop Borgess

Dancing causes may aches and pains.

*Direct from the 1930's: a Dance Marathon, and they danced, and danced, and danced
. . . and they shoot horses don't they?*

Jim McDonald and Eve Pancio won the prize for the couple that danced best.

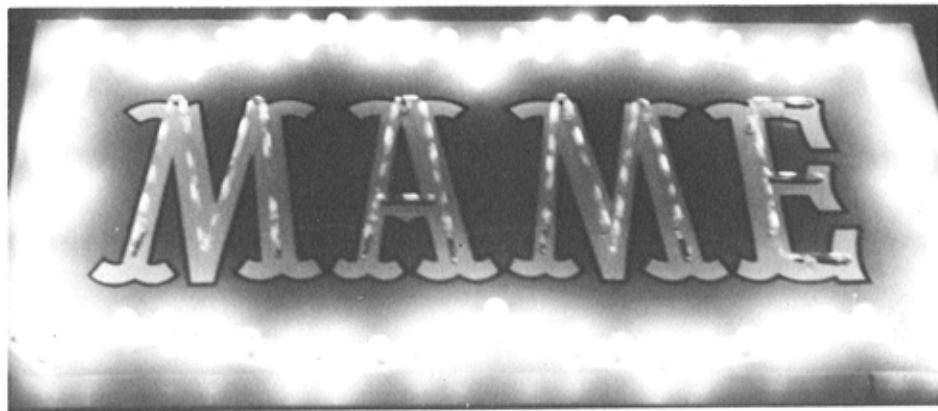

SC dance marathon had many participants and many winners

After 11 hours of dancing, the participants can still show a tired smile.

Dancing can also be fun, as seen here.

Mame draws SRO crowds as Borgess thespians offer great talent in fantastic production

The direction and technical work in Mame was worth the price of admission alone, to say nothing of the cast's great performance

All are willing to lend a helping hand.

Vera (Linda Slusarczyk), soon to make an astronomical discovery.

Cindy Grywalski shows the "kiddies" how young she feels.

*Cindy Grywalski was fantastic as Mame, and with enthusiastic school-wide involvement
Mame was easily earmarked for success*

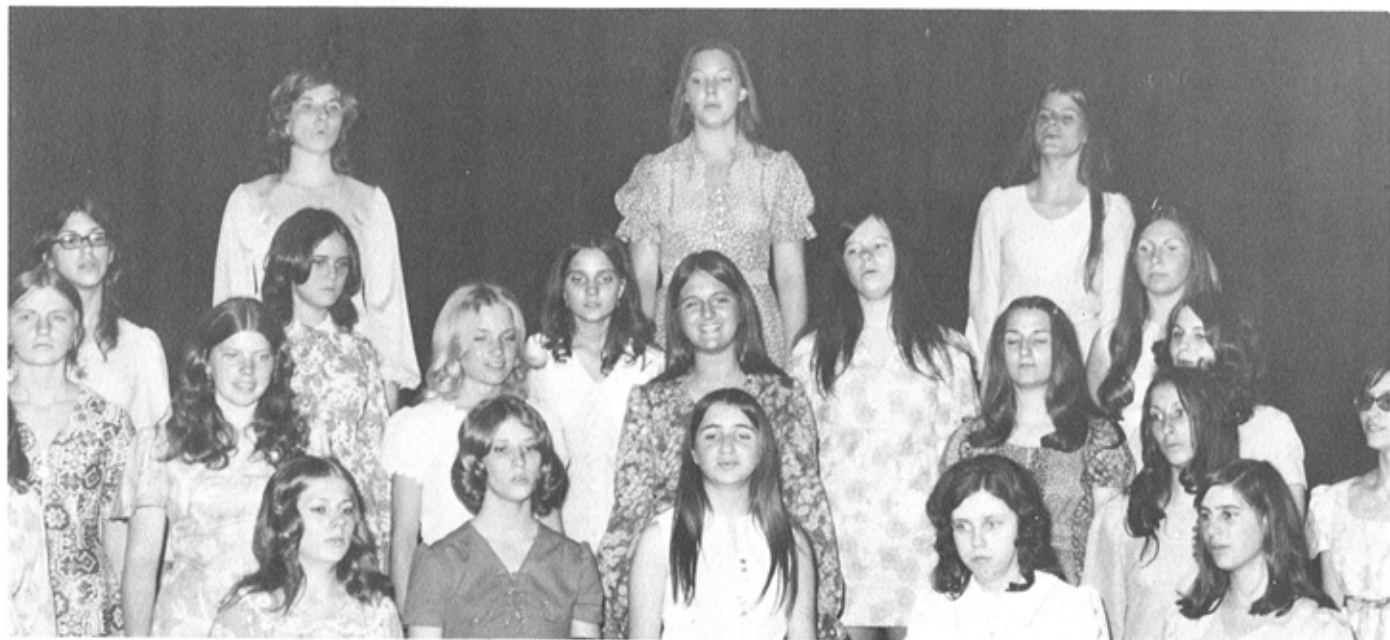

"... travel a new highway that's never been tried before!"

Song and dance routine is done to the music of Oklahoma.

The band added a modern flair to the concert.

Combined choirs take their cue from Mr. Jones (director).

Mr. Jones receives gifts of appreciation.

BB Music Dept. breaks into song with 'Serenade to Spring'

Harmony is the name of the game for the Advanced Girls Choir.

Carnaby Street, Fifth Avenue, each finds its way to BB stage

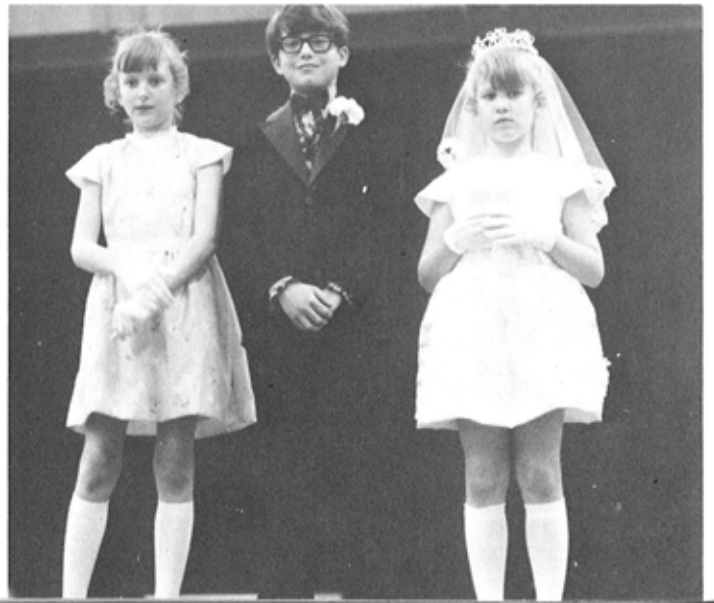

Senior, Pam Murad, models her formal, one of several in the evening gown category.

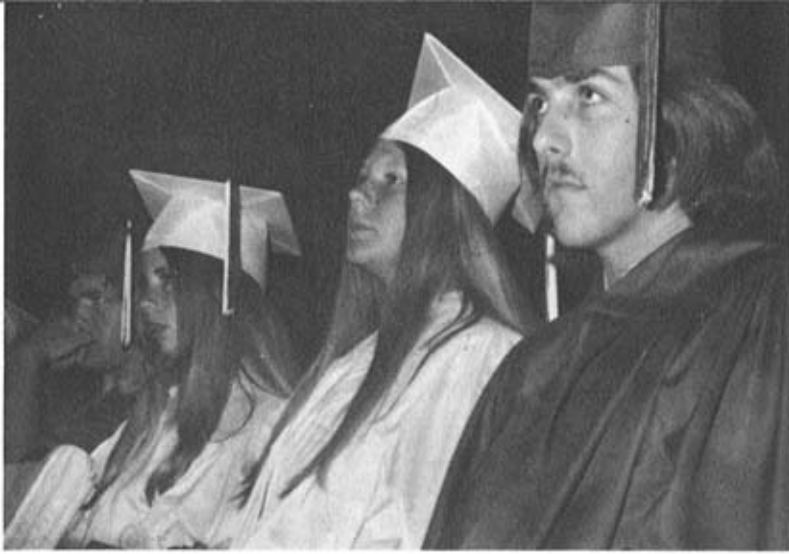

"Carnaby Street" fashions indicate that the casual look is "in" again.

Fashion Show's purpose is twofold: to offer a peek at the new styles, and to give our students a chance to model their creations

Future Borgess graduates learn early, the value of proper attire for those "special occasions."

Seniors listen attentively to the first of many speeches to be given in their honor.

All seniors commended and honored on May 25

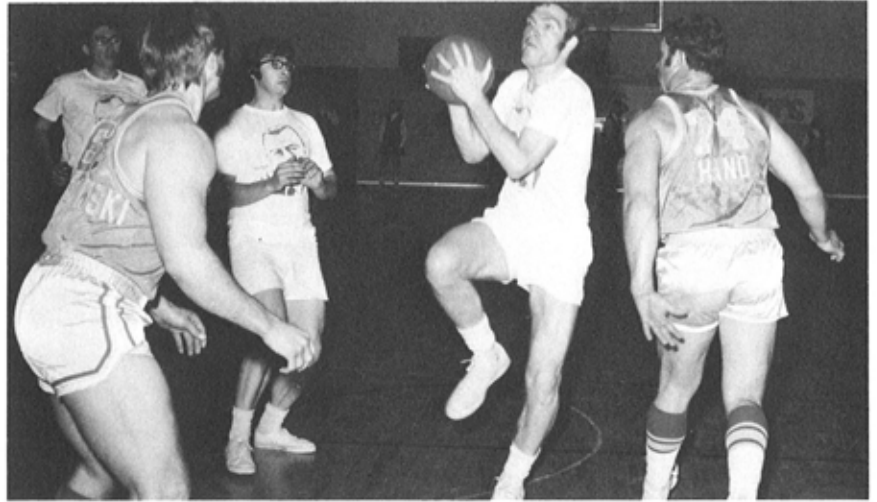

What should I do after graduation? James McDonald isn't wasting any time in preparing himself to make that decision.

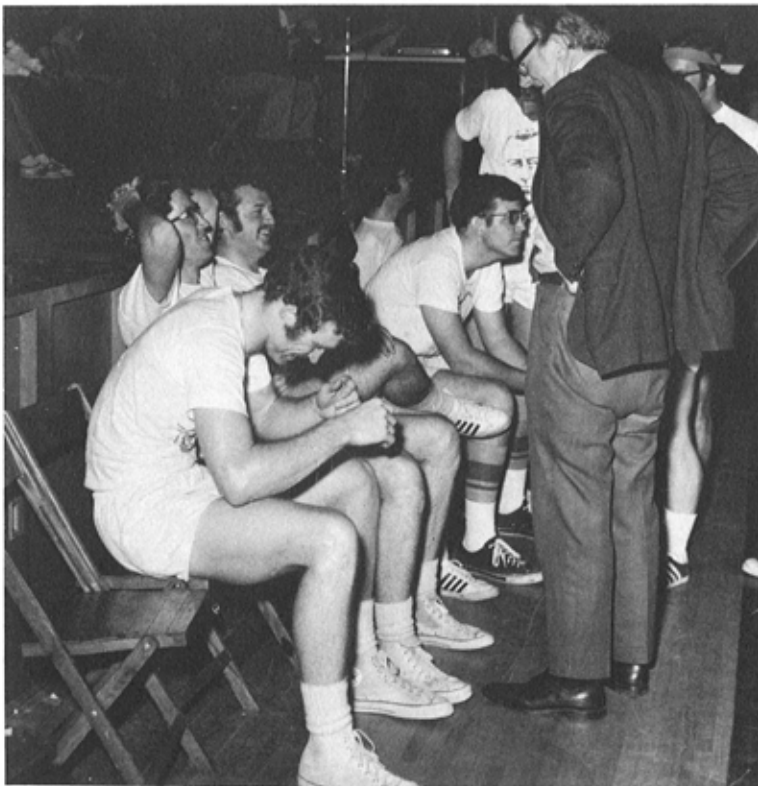

Recessional march brings bright smiles and a great sense of satisfaction.

Students are recognized for a hard year's work, as they receive appropriate awards at the BB Honors Convocation

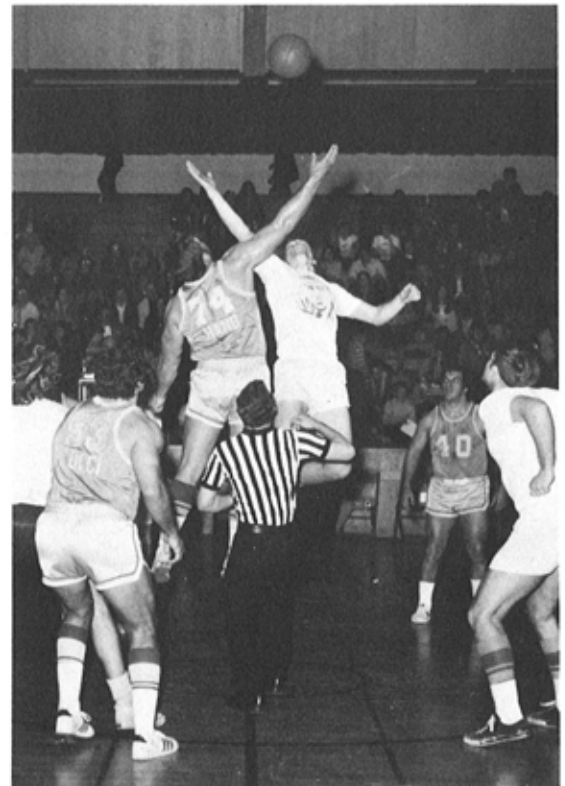

Basketball, football, who could tell at Lions-Faculty Game

Mr. Denewith literally put his body and soul into this shot for the faculty team.

Borgess cagers receive a brief but humorous pep talk from Coach (?) Griffin before the game.

"Un-Hand that Ball!" cried Coach Denewith.

That's Mike Lucci out in front! And . . . you know who the other players are.

A group of boys approach Nick Eddy after the game, eager to have an opportunity to talk to the Lion player.

Borgess staff loses again as the fearsome foursome plus one, dribble and muscle their way through the faculty's tight defense

Coach Mushinski played "Lion for a day" and was honored by requests for autographs.

Borgess thinclads capture second A-West title!

Steve Legel uses every ounce of strength to come out winning.

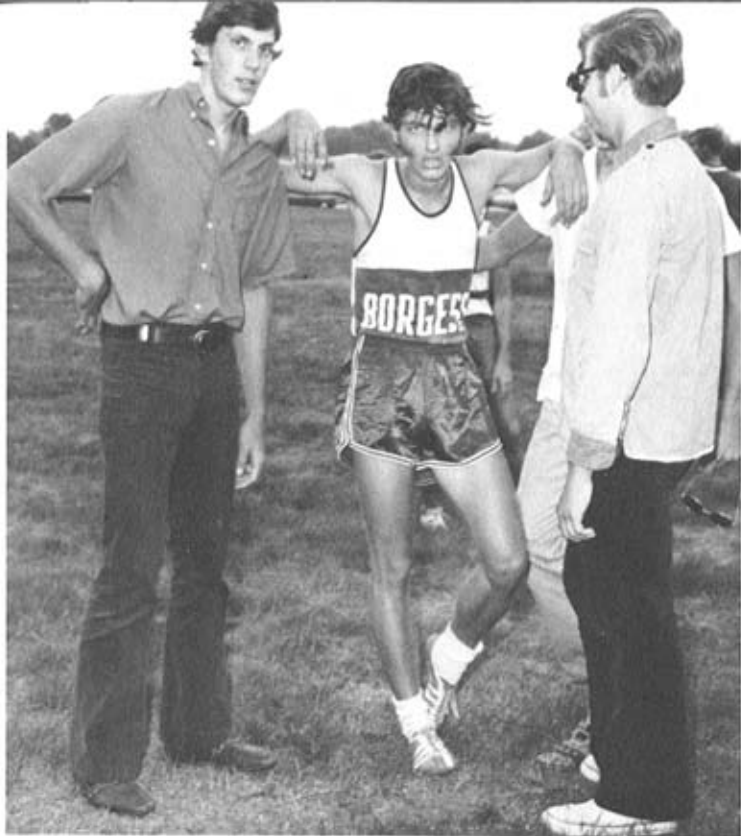

Dan Madden held on to the winning stick all season.

Anxious team members and supporters await the results.

When cross country is mentioned, Borgess is the team to reckon with. Two straight undefeated seasons in dual meets prove it!

Cross Country team success leans heavily on student support.

Concluding gracefully is difficult. It's been a long year of hard work, and finally Volume III is a reality. But as we write our final piece of copy, there is quite a bit left to be said. As a staff we were eighteen different people who sometimes clashed and sometimes cooperated, spending many hours sharing frustrations, setbacks, laughter and work. It was a year of misplaced copy sheets, running on the roof, a birthday party . . . and the best yearbook that Borgess has yet to see.

Throughout our months as a staff we've met and depended upon each other, but also upon others whose presence wasn't quite so obvious. We would like to thank Mr. Don Yee and his advertisers for their support. To Mr. Al Lozano and the Powell photographers, our deepest appreciation for helping us beyond ordinary service. We are also forever thanking Mr. and Mrs. Suprunowicz, Mrs. Mary Ellen Vaydik, and Modern Yearbook Co. for their never ending help and patience.

For our faculty advisor Mr. Janeczko, there simply are no words. He is a talented, unique and determined person whose work and helpfulness has touched every page of this book. He has become to us not only the best advisor, but also friend, confidant, moral support, and comedian. Without Mr. J. this book would not be possible, and now we will try to thank him for everything . . . and more.

And so our work is complete. We hope that you are able to enjoy discovering as well as we did creating.
